Call For Papers

2024 The 17th International Conference on Computer and Electrical Engineering (ICCEE 2024) will be held in Shenzhen University, Shenzhen, China on June 28-30, 2024.

Shenzhen has formed a high-tech industry cluster dominated by electronic information industry, and has become an important base for the industrialization of high-tech achievements in China. In terms of electronic information, Shenzhen has now formed an electronic information industry cluster represented by computers, communications and microelectronics. We believe that in Shenzhen, and at our conference with 16-year experience, there will be a platform for exchanging new ideas and application experiences face to face, for establishing business or research relations.
